Chutists sail our shores on Columbus Day

Members of the Powered Parachute Club of Maine gathered at the Bethel Airport Columbus Day weekend to enjoy, from the air, the fall foliage. The group had 12 of the craft in the air at one time. Randy Autrey of Bethel is among the members. "I have been flying these for about 10 years and love it," he said. "We flew over Songo Pond and saw a moose on the way out. One member was 5,400 feet high enjoying the sights. He said he could see Portland. We had a beautiful weekend for a get together and plan on doing it again next year."

Newry caught short by assessing errors

By ALISON ALOISIO

A recently discovered assessing error means Newry will have to make up a shortfall of $72,000 in anticipated tax money.

The mistake was found after Mike Liberti, a developer with The Peaks subdivision, questioned the tax assessment.

After the town's assessing agent, Maine Equalization Consultants, reviewed the figures, it was determined that most of the 60 lots at The Peaks should have been granted a discount on their assessed values.

A similar mistake was found for the 58-lot Mahosuc Glen subdivision, next to Sunday River's golf course.

The town typically assigns a standardized value to a lot. It then discounts it 30 percent if it is undeveloped, and 50 percent if there is no road access, selectmen said.

Under those guidelines, most of The Peaks lots should have received both discounts, and the golf course lots should have received 30 percent off.

Bethel transfer station upgrade and skateboard expansion OK'd

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel will go ahead with improvements to the Tri-town Transfer Station and an expansion of the skateboard park next to Davis Park.

At a special Town Meeting Monday evening, 28 voters approved both projects, at a total cost of approximately $28,540.

The transfer station work will include construction of a retaining wall and concrete pads to allow for safer and more efficient handling of waste materials, Town Manager Scott Cole said.

The wall will allow construction waste to be thrown down directly into collection bins, improving distribution and compaction. (Currently waste material is dumped in by a front end loader.)

This in turn will produce greater weights in each load, leading to fewer loads being hauled from the site.

The station pays $185 per trip when the bins are hauled, and Cole estimated that the new arrangement could save as much as $10,000 a year.

The funding figure approved Monday was $42,800, with $19,260 of that to come from Hanover and Newry, which

G'wood now satisfied with road project

Howe Hill Road will be ready for paving in the spring, Greenwood Town Manager Kim Sparks said Monday.

Just a week or two ago, prospects for paving next year looked cloudy.

The town had awarded D.A. Wilson a contract for $91,770 to rebuild 3,500 feet of the road, in order to prepare it for the paving, but when Wilson declared the project complete, town officials found themselves looking down a road that was not what they expected, or what the contract called for.

In several places the roadway was not as wide — 28 feet — as called for in the contract,

Region 9 lays out $4.9 million expansion plan

By ALISON ALOISIO

Region 9, which provides vocational education for SAD44 students, last week presented a proposal for a $4.9 million expansion and renovation project at its Mexico site.

The regional school's member towns (those in SADs 44, 43, 21 and their tuition towns) will vote on the plan in January.

The public presentation was made last Wednesday evening at Mountain Valley Middle School in Mexico. It was attended by about three dozen people, mostly school officials.

The vocational school serves a total of 530 students, 170 of whom are high school vocational. Roughly 20 percent of the high school population comes from SAD44. (For more detail, see sidebar.)

More than $1 million is needed just to bring the facility into compliance with current safety and other code standards, Region 9 officials said.

A 2005 review found problems with life safety, air quality, ADA access and roof conditions, according to Norm Clanton of Bethel, who is the chairman of the Region 9 Board of Directors.

Additional space is also needed to better accommodate existing programs, he said, and to allow for the addition of two new ones — auto technology and early childhood development.

There is often a waiting list for the metal trades, building trades, CNA, truck driving and diversified occupations (teaching a variety of life and work skills) programs, he said.

The new programs were recommended as a result of student and staff surveys. They would bring in an additional 60 students and cost an estimated $167,900 in operating costs.

The expansion would cover an area of 17,300 square feet. The existing building is 23,800 square feet.

An earlier, larger-scale proposal costing $8.3 million was scaled back to the current plan.

As a result, "we built as

Expected cost for SAD44

By ALISON ALOISIO

SAD44 Supt. Dave Murphy has estimates of the financial impact of a Region 9 project on SAD44.

Background

In recent years, the district's annual share of the Region 9 operating budget has been about $250,000.

Between 2003 and the present, the SAD44 student enrollment at the vocational school has grown slowly, from 29 to a current 42.

The most popular programs among participating Telstar students are building construction, CNA, wood harvesting, cooperative education and diversified occupations.

An average of a half dozen SAD44 students are now enrolled in each of those programs.

Project share

If the Region 9 project is approved, SAD44 would contribute approximately $34,000 in partial loan payments the first year, FY'08.

In the second year, as the loan payments go into full effect, SAD44 would contribute about $91,000. In addition, the district would incur an estimated additional $34,000 in operating costs for the two new Region 9 programs that are anticipated.

(The school also figures on an average operating budget increase of 5 percent a year.)

After 2009, the loan payments would be expected to slowly

The Telstar High School soccer team remains undefeated, and after Tuesday's home matchup against Georges Valley, the Rebels are also 2006 players in recent history.

Soccer

The Rebels concluded their first ever undefeated regular season with a 13-0-1 record, now 14-0-1 with Tuesday's victory.

To date they have racked up both the most ever wins and most goals scored in school history. The goal total is 67, and still counting.

MAHOOSUC ARTS GIFT MATCHING

To the Editor:
This year marks 20 years of existence for the Mahoosuc Arts Council. Since 1986, the council has been bringing quality programs in the arts and humanities to SAD44 schools and communities. Local support from the community and business members of Andover, Greenwood, Newry, Woodstock, and Bethel has been vital to our continuation. This year we are being given a very special opportunity to help us reach our fundraising goals by former Mahoosuc Arts board member Chris Otten. Between now and Nov. 1, 2006, for every new gift or pledge of a new gift that someone makes, she will match the gift. For increased pledges or paid gifts from previous donors, she will match the increase.
The fall is also the time that we hold the phonathon, our major fundraising event. On the evenings of Oct. 24, 25, and 26 volunteers will call fellow community members to ask them to make a gift to the council. You can help support Mahoosuc Arts take advantage of this generous gift-giving opportunity by responding when you are called during the phonathon or by mailing gifts directly to the Mahoosuc Arts Council, PO Box 534, Bethel, prior to Nov. 1. Your encouragement and support is greatly appreciated.

TABOR FATALLY FLAWED

To the Editor:
Maine's population is among the oldest of our 50 states. As a retiree living on a fixed income, I must weigh the appeal of TABOR's constraints on spending and taxes against diminished critical services. Fortunately, when weighing the promises of TABOR, we can study the "laboratory experiment" provided by Colorado, the sole state to implement TABOR.
In 2005, with its economy in tatters, Colorado voted to suspend this ill-fated experiment. Since 2001, alone, Colorado has made $1 billion in spending cuts. One-hundred thousand seniors lost help paying property taxes when the Homestead Act had to be repealed. Medicaid budgets for long-term and in-home services for seniors were lower than those in 44 states. More than seniors are impacted: Colorado has dropped to 39th among states for funding for health and hospitals. Colorado is 28th among states in access to prenatal care and 50th in "on-time" immunizations. Colorado children without healthcare have increased from 15 percent to 27 percent. Public education has suffered. K through 12 education has seen the fourth largest drop in funding among all 50 states. Colorado teachers are 50th in pay. Colorado's rates for high school graduation had declined from 76 percent to 70 percent. Public library funding has dropped 79 percent. If health and education are not your concerns, consider that Colorado has dropped to 44th nationally in highway funding with a $12.6 billion backlog in unfinished projects. $1.6 billion is needed to repair bridges and roads that decayed under TABOR (AARP-Maine; AARP-National).
TABOR's indexing annual changes in state and local budgets based on population growth and inflation, or changes in total assessed value (whichever is smaller), is fatally flawed. It does not consider emergency circumstances (Think: Ice Storm) or federal mandates (Think: 'No Child Left Behind'). Nor do TABOR calculations recognize that subgroups of the population (with their unique needs) grow more rapidly than the general population. For example, by 2030 Maine's overall population will grow but 10.7 percent, but its senior population will grow by 104 percent (U.S. Census Bureau). TABOR FORUM

To the Editor:
As a resident of Rumford Center and a candidate for state Senate, I have responded to numerous questions regarding the pros and cons of the Taxpayer Bill of Rights initiative. For several months, the MMA, AARP, NEA and other special interest groups have opposed the initiative while the supporters of the initiative continue to present their vision of a positive outcome for the people (the taxpayers). Many communities have been criticized for conducting single-sided discussions without visible and timely opposition to the presentation content.
Although I am a supporter of the initiative, I feel that it is necessary to provide a balanced communication forum for our local voters. Attorney Thomas Carey, former Rumford Town Meeting moderator, has agreed to be the moderator for the session. We have invited the following people to present their respective views and to participate in a Question and Answer session:
Mary Adams and Tarren Bragdon will represent the Taxpayer Bill of Rights initiative.
Edward Cervone, policy analyst for the Maine Center for Economic Policy and Robert Reynolds, Portland firefighter will represent the opposition to the initiative.
The forum will be held on Thursday, Oct. 26, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Mountain Valley High School auditorium.
We hope to fill the MVHS auditorium and provide clear and balanced information for the voters prior to the Nov. 7 referendum vote.

TAKING CARE OF THE ARTIST'S BRIDGE

To the Editor:
Artist's Bridge over Sunday River in the town of Newry is owned by the state of Maine and maintained by Maine DOT. We are thrilled to have this historical icon, one of only seven covered bridges remaining in the state, in our town. As a public historical site it is, of course, open to everyone at all times. Exclusive use of the facility by any one party is not within its public purpose.
The Newry Town Office does maintain an events calendar for the bridge as a courtesy to parties wishing to hold special occasions there. In the past the calendar entries have ranged from duck races to road rallies to weddings. However, entry on the calendar does not guarantee exclusive use but merely serves notice to anyone who inquiries at the office that events are planned. Others may well use the bridge for picnics, bus tours, swimming, photos, etc., without consulting the calendar and are certainly welcome to do so.
No trash receptacles or bathroom facilities are maintained at the bridge, and the land surrounding the structure is privately owned. Anyone making use of the bridge is asked to do their part for the community and the neighbors by removing all items brought there immediately following their use and policing the surrounding land to insure that no paper products, baby diapers or other wastes remain. It goes without saying that the bridge should not be carved or defaced in any way, that all staples and other fasteners must be immediately removed and that nothing should be thrown into the river.
We are pleased that you have chosen to visit our beautiful town, and we hope that you will return often. Thank you for doing your part to help us to insure that the special qualities that make this area unique will be preserved so that future generations may enjoy all that we treasure today.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:
I am writing to encourage your readers in House District 91 to cast their vote for Tim Carter. For many years I had the great pleasure and honor of representing this district in the House and Senate. Tim and I share deep roots in western Maine and a history of involvement in wood harvesting. It is vital that a Representative have a solid grounding in the issues and concerns of constituents. Tim's years in farming and wood-harvesting, provide that. Tim's work for the US Department of Agriculture in the 1990s provided valuable experience in government that will make him especially effective in the Legislature.
My career has taken me into higher education and a realization that investment in education for Maine is vital. I know that Tim Carter will work hard to see that this investment is made.

NANCY BESSEY

To the Editor:
Please vote for Nancy Bessey to be your state Representative in Augusta. It will be a vote you will not regret. Nancy brings to the table a vast experience in business that is too often lacking in our Capitol. Her experience in the energy business in particular is most needed in this state where high power costs, slow economic growth abound.
Having campaigned with Nancy throughout the District 91 I have witnessed firsthand her enthusiasm, confidence, and willingness to listen to each individual. As a small businessperson she knows how to put people to work. She will be a strong and independent voice for western Maine and I have full confidence in her ability to fairly represent all the people of District 91. Thank you for reading my letter.

To the Editor:
Having spent two days canvassing door to door with Nancy Bessey, Republican candidate for House District 91, I would like to express my endorsement for her. Nancy meets people in a fair, non-partisan manner that will benefit residents of all persuasions. Her keen sense of business and social issues will serve her well in this role.
Nancy Bessey deserves our support on Nov. 7.

LEN GREANEY

To the Editor:
On Nov. 7 the voters of Senate District 14 (Northern Oxford County and Jay) have the opportunity to cast their vote for an outstanding candidate, Len Greaney. Len is a retired gentleman full of vigor, interest and experience necessary to tackle some of the state's problems head-on. His success in the business world has left him with sharp insight that allows him to come up with workable solutions to these problems. Len has a keen interest in the needs of the business climate in Maine and a will tackle the tax-burden problems. He is committed to providing professional leadership, reducing healthcare costs, and to revitalizing Maine's rural economy. He would encourage business investment to promote higher paying jobs; thus, keeping our young folks right here in Maine where they would like to stay and raise their families. They need decent paying jobs. Len has some fresh new ideas that could become reality. That's what we need in Augusta — fresh, new ideas!
Len and his wife, Mary, have chosen to move back to Mary's childhood homestead in Rumford Center. They, like so many of our wonderful retired seniors, are involved in volunteerism and community affairs. Len has not only become active in local organizations, but he has taken on the huge task of documenting over 9,000 veteran records to make sure our fallen veterans in foreign countries get recognition in their homeland.
Len Greaney is a real "shaker and doer." Let's get out to vote on Nov. 7 for Len Greaney for Senator. With your support we'll send a strong message to Augusta with Len. He promises to be your full-time Senator, ready to answer your calls and attend to your needs.

CHRISTOPHER WAINWRIGHT

To the Editor:
With the Nov. 7, elections drawing near, I felt compelled to express my opinion regarding the Oxford County Sheriff's position. As many voters in Oxford County are well aware, I was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff in 2002, against Republican Sheriff Lloyd C. Herrick. I received the support and votes of over 9,000 citizens of Oxford County. I have over 30 years of experience in the Law Enforcement profession, with the majority of those years in administrative, supervisory and leadership positions.
Christopher Wainwright has been a dedicated employee of the Oxford County Sheriff's Office and has protected and served the citizens of Oxford County for the last 17 years. Chris holds all of the necessary attributes to lead the Oxford County Sheriff's Office into the future. Chris has the knowledge, ability and desire to work collaboratively with all emergency service agencies within Oxford County. Chris Wainwright portrays professionalism and integrity and is a perfect candidate to replace Sheriff Herrick, who is preparing to retire from service.
I would like to convey my utmost appreciation to those voters who supported and trusted in me enough to cast their vote for me in 2002. I would now ask that the same voters who supported me then, trust my judgment now. I will be voting Republican this election and will be voting for Christopher Wainwright. I am confident he will serve Oxford County well.

WAYNE GALLANT

To the Editor:
I believe that it is time for a changing of the guard in the leadership for our county law enforcement. We all want the best people in leadership positions. We need someone that has a proven track record of being in charge and making sound decisions that are best for all parties involved. By voting for Wayne Gallant to take over and lead the Oxford County Sheriff's Department it will no longer be business as usual.
Wayne is a people person, he cares about the people he works for, the people he works with and the people that work for him. Wayne is a strong leader that is well qualified with many years of experience. If you believe that we need a change in our county law enforcement then Wayne Gallant is the man you should vote for this November.

share the transfer station with Bethel.

The $42,800 figure is $11,800 higher than the $31,000 initially proposed for the work.

Cole said the increase reflected the cost of lengthening the wall (from 184 linear feet to 199), adding frostwall footings and additional rebar reinforcement.

The increase also covers a late decision to have an engineer review and stamp the design plan.

The project is expected to be completed by early next month, Cole said.

Voters also approved $5,000 for the skateboard park expansion.

Plans call for the park, which is currently 900 to 1,000 square feet, to be expanded to 6,000, and for construction of what Cole termed "modest fencing" between the park and the nearby pathway.

The money will pay for any necessary permitting (the park is in Shoreland Zoning), with any left over money to be put toward park "elements" (the structures used for performing skateboard maneuvers).

Contractor Francis Dumont has volunteered to contribute the paving.

The expansion will take place at the park's current location, with work expected to take place next spring, Cole said.

Monday's meeting lasted 25 minutes, and both projects were passed without opposition.

Roads

and test pits revealed that both the base and subbase were not as thick as called for.

Sparks decided to hold the payment, pending a meeting among Wilson, road foreman Alan Seames and the town engineer.

That meeting took place on site last Wednesday, and concluded with Wilson agreeing to widen the road where needed and to add another 702 cubic yards of gravel to the road.

That represents approximately 13 percent of the 5,293 cubic yards called for in the contract.

The added gravel will raise the level of the road approximately three inches, Sparks said.

Vote needed

The planned paving must still clear one more hurdle — voters at Town Meeting next March must agree to spend a projected $30,000 for the town's share of the work.

The balance, also $30,000, will be coming from the Maine Department of Transportation's "Roads to Work" program. "Work" in this case being at Mt. Abram's Westside Lodge, which is accessed by Howe Hill Road.

At 6:45 p.m. on Oct. 14 Officer Travis Fillmore responded with the Fire Department to Pinehaven Drive for a report of a bonfire. The fire turned out to be a cooking fire.

Sunday, Oct. 15

At 3:45 p.m. Lt. S.R. White responded to the Intervale Road regarding an assault that had reportedly taken place at another location, on a ball field. The complainant said her son had been hurt there, and there was a court order that said she could be there. She said the father of the child told her to leave, and he grabbed her arm and pulled her away. She then went to a relative's residence to call police. The lieutenant later spoke with the father, who admitted he grabbed the complainant. Anthony Andrews, 52, of Bethel was summonsed for domestic assault. The case is still under investigation.

At 6:05 p.m. on Route 2 Lt. S.R. White summonsed Tony L. Bennett, 40, of Bethel for possession of a usable amount of marijuana.

Saturday, Oct. 14

At 3:09 p.m. Officer Travis Fillmore responded to a gas station for a report of a subject who refused to pay for $1.85 in gas. She paid for $20, but because she said she had to change pumps because of a possible malfunction, the subject felt she should not have to pay for the remaining amount. The vehicle could not be located.

At noon Officer Phil Taylor responded to a business on Vernon Street for a report that a door had been kicked in. The owner, who was away, was to have checked to see if anything was missing.

Friday, Oct. 13

The total tax shortfall for The Peaks lots is $46,553, and for the golf course lots, $25,898, selectmen said.

The original assessments for The Peaks lots ranged between $100,000 and $300,000.

(The Peaks has an arrangement with the town allowing the sale of the inaccessible lots because the developers have a letter of credit from a bank that financially guarantees the construction of the subdivision's road.)

In Mahoosuc Glen, original lot assessments ranged from over $100,000 to about $250,000.

Because Newry has only about $46,000 in its overlay account (intended to cover such unexpected expenses), a special Town Meeting will be required to approve taking some of the money from surplus to cover the shortfall and/or pay abatements.

Selectmen said Monday the meeting will take place before the end of the year.

They said there will likely be other articles to address, including overdrafts in a fire station account and the Grange Hall account, as well as proposed changes to the Shoreland Zoning Ordinance.

playoffs, as far as we make it," said coach Tim Remington. "All the regular season record did for us was give us home field [advantage]. We have now wiped the record clean and play one game at a time, that is our philosophy. So we are 0-0-0, if you ask our team."

Tuesday's game saw Frankie Delduca score two goals and Max Meader one.

Each scored one goal on a free kick.

Gavin Parker had two assists, and goalkeeper Kevin Gallagher had 19 saves in the win.

On Saturday, the top-seeded Rebels will play at home in the Western Class C quarter-finals.

Their opponent will be the winner of yesterday's (Wednesday) preliminary matchup between #9 Livermore Falls and #8 Traip. The game is expected to start at 1 p.m.

Field hockey

The Lady Rebels concluded their season with a record of 10-4-1 after being eliminated from the playoffs by Lisbon.

"It was just one of those games," said coach Gail Wight.

The season had gotten off to a slow start, as the Rebels dropped their first three games by narrow margins.

The team collectively had relatively little varsity experience. They succeeded last year's squad, which went all the way to the state Class C championship game.

A large group of seniors was lost to graduation—the same group who led the Rebel softball team to a state championship last spring.

But this year's hard-working hockey players gelled as a team and improved as the season progressed, at one point stringing together 10 straight wins.

Wight said she is pleased and proud with their progress.

"They hadn't really played together before," she said. "To pull together and play as they did was quite an accomplishment."

Wight said she moved players around to different positions during the season, and they adapted well.

And with 12 freshmen and 12 sophomores on the team, the future looks bright.

"We'll have a lot of returning lettermen," said Wight.

much flexibility in as possible," said Jim Reuter, of Smith Reuter Lull Architects, the firm that did the design. The design allows for multiple use of the building's rooms and areas, he said.

The plan would also allow for Central Maine Community College to offer some of its classes at the site.

Funding

If approved, Region 9 would receive a total of $1.7 million in funding aid from the state's Revolving Renovation Fund.

Of that, 40 percent would be an outright grant, while 60 percent would be an interest-free loan payable over 10 years.

The remaining $3.2 million would be a 20-year loan from the Maine Bond Bank.

But, said the officials, the offer of the state funding is only good until February.

"If it doesn't pass, the $1.7 million will be lost and the [code] deficiencies will remain," said Clanton. "I'd hate to see that happen."

It would be another six to 10 years before the school would again be eligible for state aid, he said.

The scaled-back plan combines renovation and some new construction, which, Clanton said, would be the best balance for all concerned, including taxpayers. "We think it's a conservative approach," said Clanton.

Two previous Region 9 plans for building construction were rejected by voters.

One vote took place in the 1980s, another in the mid-1990s.

Region 9 officials plan to meet with individual school boards to present the latest proposal.

Cost

Murphy said Friday that he expects Region 9 representatives to meet with the School Board here in November.

"I anticipate that there will be many questions regarding the proposed facility, new programming, funding expectations, potential impact on the SAD 44 budget, etc.," Murphy said.

Even with the reduced project proposal, "the budget impact will still be significant since the vast majority of the costs associated with the project will be funded locally," said Murphy.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

A large group of Republicans escorted Olympia Snowe down Main Street in Bethel on Monday, Oct. 16. She also visited several local stores.

Fryeburg Fair was a wonderful experience for the Kenistons. We met with everyone we had ever known, including relatives from Wales we had never met. Our daughter, Martha Bangs, was a big help Saturday through Wednesday. Son Peter Keniston came on Wednesday through Sunday and took over at the lathe like he'd always done it.

Tom Davis of Pittsburgh, Pa., spent the weekend working on clearing his lot for a new home on Songo Pond.

Word has it that the football sport at Telstar and Crescent Park is doing well. There's lots of spirit and spunk. The scrimmages are doing great. Boys who have never been in any sports are going out for football. Great!

Bob Keniston went to Jericho, Vt., Monday and Tuesday to visit Ted and Rachel McKnight.

Mrs. Norris (Barbara) Brown is at Ledgeview in West Paris. Arlene Brown, sister of Rachel MacKay, is at Market Square in South Paris.

Mary Bean (Key Bank) is at Maine Medical Center in Portland.

Our friend and barber Ed Damon of Norway had an accident while at his woodlot cutting trees recently. He is at Maine Medical Center, Portland, where he had surgery on his back.

Hi and Mary Lou were visited over the weekend by Mary Lou's sister-in-law, Marian Todesca and daughter, Ellen, of Guilford, Conn.

Wayne Eichel, Grapevine, Texas, Raymond and Debbie Eichel and Jonathan and Debbie from Worcester, Mass., were guests on Columbus Day weekend of their mother, Mary Eichel, at her Songo Lake Cottage. They enjoyed the wife carrying contest at Sunday River on Saturday, the 7th. They helped her with many of the outside chores in closing her cottage for the winter. She left for her home in Auburn, Mass., on Saturday, the 14th.

Mayville News

By Don Bennett

Ross and Carole Timberlake have broken ground for a 24-by-48 foot barn on their property at 158 Mayville Road. When completed, the barn will house the manufacturing part of their furniture and home accessory business. In turn their current manufacturing area will be remodeled into their product display area. The new showroom will feature two very large windows facing down the driveway toward the road and the windows will be made of the traditional small pane glazing — still found on Cape Cod and in Ogunquit for instance.

The "barn" design follows a truly old-time Mayville style — it will be topped with a cupola and weathervane and have siding similar to the "Golden Gallons" barn owned by the Murphy's and at one time home to Bob and Jane Grover's Guernsey herd. In short it will look like a Mayville barn standing between the Timberlake's house and The Briar Lea. The only traditional feature missing will be the manure pile. Jim Haskell is the Timberlake's general contractor.

Ross said that he hasn't decided on the weathervane ornament yet and made the mistake of asking me what I would suggest. So I told him that the only creature to be on a Mayville weathervane was a rooster. Some believe that the old weathervane rooster that once perched atop the village's church is still in existence somewhere in Bethel. For many years it was stored in the house where Tom and Marcey White live now, previously the Douglass's and Twitchell's before that. One member of the Twitchell family actually carved the old rooster. The rooster might have been chosen as a symbol of Mayville's long ago, occasional attitudes of independence and truculence toward town affairs. (Nothing so bold would occur today.)

Next door to the Timberlakes, Tom White is getting into the final stages of work on his sculpture of Korean War Medal of Honor soldier Emory Bennett. This is the statue that will eventually be displayed in a city park in Cocoa, Fla. The soldier's family chose a photograph showing their son in a happy-go-lucky pose in Korea with his helmet tipped back, dressed in brand new fatigues and with a shoulder holster made for the 1911 model 45-caliber pistol strapped around his hips. I think Tom has captured the man and his mood perfectly.

Next week on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, Oct. 24 and 27, at 2 p.m. Tom has invited any local Korean War veterans to meet in his work studio to critique the statue. The Tom White Studio is located in the large barn at the Prodigal Inn on Route 2, Mayville Road and across the road from the Schiavi Sales Center. Hopefully both Sonny Bean and Herb Dunham will be able to come on one of those days because both have previously expressed interest in seeing the work and examining the details for authenticity. All old soldiers are invited whether Korean War vets or not.

Monday Harry Kuzyk stopped to talk about some of the more interesting historical anecdotes that have grown in his home area of North Bethel. Harry lives where a large, unnamed island lies in the Androscoggin River between his house and Middle Intervale. He believes that ownership of the island is divided between the St. Pierre's (Outlook Recording Studio) and David and Nancy Murphy. It is the history of the island's past role in farming that he wanted to focus on. Some of the stories he remembers came from the venerable, now departed, Bruce Bailey. And other stories he has learned since living there for the last 30 or so years. Near the river are the remains of two cellar holes where buildings belonging to a Smith family once stood. The Smith's farmed the island and used a river barge to move cattle back and forth over the river to the island. At one time there were two barns on the island where hay was stored after it was cut. When the river iced over the hay was hauled to the mainland over the ice. That area's most modern farmer at the turn of the century was St. John Hastings whose large set of farm buildings stood where John and Bonnie Marshall live now. Hastings farmed part of the island; he was also one of the first Bethel farmers to build a silo. Bob Grover hayed the island but I do not remember definitely if he kept livestock there; I think he did.

Later this week Harry and I hope to meet again to write down more of Bruce Bailey's oral history that he had passed on and to explore the area further.

This part of North Bethel was home to a number of sizable, active farms; but, it was just far enough removed from the center of Bethel village to not receive much attention. What the selectmen and treasurer were most interested in was the Bethel Town Farm nearer Newry Corner.

Do you remember 1979 when gas was short and its price was high?

There was a quite widespread interest in finding energy saving ways. President Jimmy Carter wore a cardigan in the White House; he kept the thermostats turned down. Remember the "Maine Times"?

As a 1970s statewide weekly newspaper it ran some very interesting articles on how to cope with less energy — solar power, airtight stoves, etc. One article I remember was about a young man who built a home with a chainsaw and a three-pound sledgehammer. Off and on since then I have experimented with a chainsaw for remodeling. This week I used a chainsaw to remodel part of a bedroom. You know, running a chainsaw in a bedroom is one way to quickly fill the air with a natural woody aroma, plus a few lingering exhaust fumes. But it is fun to get quick results.

For the record: Gas at Irving has dropped again to $2.299 per gallon.

The coldest temperature at our house occurred on Saturday, Oct. 14 — it was 27 degrees.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

The weather this weekend was a gift. Very cool nights for good sleeping and temperatures in the sixties during the day was a good balance for snoozing and working in the yard. Ignore that white frost in the a.m.

Halloween decorations appeared last week to the delight of the children.

The Upton Strollers with their dogs enjoyed the fresh air and exercise. The woodpiles are filled and the smell of wood smoke is in the air. It is really lovely in Upton in the fall.

Barbara and C.J. Stratton have spent a couple of weeks doing camp chores and reading. The animal's tail that they found in the dooryard belonged to a flying squirrel, which happens to be the favorite dish for a domestic housecat.

The coyote continues to visit the apple trees at Ginny's. (Better to eat apples than housecats).

Simonne Lavalley fell injuring her scalp. She is a tough little lady and never complained once.

The cards and pool crowd met last week. The big winner won fifty-five cents but we can't give out the name because the federal and state people will be on their case. Each morning "Road Hunters" scan the area for partridges. There are gunshots echoing over the lake but they must be coming from New Hampshire, which allows Sunday hunting.

The town has purchased a new truck. All I know about it is that it is a Diesel.

The quiet of the woods was broken last week. One of the neighbors has a tiny little beagle named Misty, who loves to chase bunnies, but we suspect Misty is treeing squirrels. The blood-curdling howling coming from the woods and Misty is quite remarkable.

Birds are still scarce. A pair of Canada jays, crows, ravens and chickadees show up at the feeders. The crows and ravens are the "Birds of the Week," and there sure are plenty of them around.

Just about every day there is a car that comes down Depot Street and stops to take a picture of the McLain house at the end of the street. This past Sunday there were three men from Massachusetts that belonged to a photography club that stopped to take pictures. After watching them for a few minutes, I could not resist the temptation to take a picture of them taking pictures. I explained to them that no one believes us when we tell how many times we see people taking pictures, so we now have proof. One of the men said that his father had been around when the CCC camp was on Route 113 and had helped build one of the bridges. We gave them a tour of the Town Hall and they enjoyed having a little bit of history to take with them.

Steve McLain got word from his son, Stephen McLain III, that the kids, Marina, Nathan and Quinn, were enjoying their Maine pumpkin that they received for Halloween. Quinn is too little to know about Halloween, but he seemed to like the very large, orange pumpkin.

I got a call from Alan Newton from the Bog Road this past weekend. He is home and feeling much better. He spent eleven days in the hospital with a very bad infection.

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen met at the Town Hall on Oct. 11. Besides the three selectmen, Beverley Corriveau, administrative assistant, was there to keep track of the minutes. There were five others in attendance.

The first item on the agenda was an update on the Route 113 Byway. After reading additional material that had recently been submitted to them, the selectmen decided to write a letter that would state that the selectmen of the town of Gilead would not support the Byway.

Fred Corriveau, Gilead highway commissioner, was present to discuss the transfer station and recent roadwork. Things are going well at the transfer station and work will begin for covers for the dumpster for the winter. Fred also reported that the section of the North Road near Munro's has been tarred. Fred is interested in doing some maintenance on the Town Hall and maybe make it a little more comfortable to use during the winter months.

Under new business the Board appointed Jill Bujnowski to the alternate position that was open on the Planning Board.

Mark Wigley brought up the issue of the boat launch that will be going to vote at the regular Town Meeting in March. The selectmen decided to hold a public hearing at least a month before so the residents can get the facts presented to them regarding the benefits and liabilities of having a public boat launch on the Androscoggin River near the transfer station.

lic boat launch on the Androscoggin River near the transfer station.

Gilead Fire Department

The Gilead Fire Department will hold an Open House on Sunday, Oct. 29, from 2 to 6 p.m. at the Fire Station on Depot Street. The firemen will also demonstrate some of the fire equipment that has been recently acquired. Smoke detectors will be given out free of charge to those who need them. Call Sue at 836-2494 to get on the list. If you are unable to attend the Open House, but are in need of smoke detectors, give Sue a call and she can work out something to help you. Refreshments will be served, so stop by and check out your local fire station and see what is happening.

We had a nice week last week, with Anita, Dan and Sierra, got in some hiking, visiting with family and a sightseeing trip to Washington, D.C. I had tickets to attend the dedication ceremony for the new Air Force Memorial, and we all wanted to attend that.

We flew to Baltimore, where Anita had rented a car from Hertz; it was supposed to be a Ford Taurus, but when I saw their luggage, I knew we couldn't get all their three huge bags plus our two small ones and a backpack into the trunk of a Taurus. Luckily, Anita got a free upgrade through her insurance company, and we ended up with a Lincoln Town car; plenty of room for all of us, and the luggage! We stayed in a motel in Jessup, Md., which is between Baltimore and Washington. Then we drove to where we could park the car and ride the metro trains to Washington.

We had quite a time figuring out how to buy tickets for the Metro through their vending machines. Once we caught on, we decided that's the way to travel around DC, especially on weekdays. Once you figure out the machines, you can obtain tickets, increase or decrease the amount you invest and even use a special ticket to get out of the parking lot.

The final day, Dan lost his Metro ticket somewhere on the train, so when he went to exit, he couldn't get out until a Metro worker helped him buy a replacement ticket. I tried to loan Dan my all-day ticket after I exited the toll gates by passing it back over the gate, but the computer wouldn't let the same ticket be used twice in a row. Damn those computers, anyhow!

On Saturday, we attended the dedication ceremony, which was really via a remote hookup to several huge screens set up in the Pentagon south parking lot. Trouble was, there were far too many people for the numbers of food booths that were set up. Endless lines extended for hundreds of feet from all booths, and they were moving at a snail's pace. In contrast, they had so many "Don's Johns" porta-potties that there was no wait at all to use one of them! I held out until nearly time for the ceremony to start, when I decided I had to have a drink. The shortest line I could find was for beverages only, and it took nearly 30 minutes to get two bottles of water and a diet coke.

The ceremony was "M.C'd" by Bob Schaefer, of ABC news and who also was a captain in the U.S. Air Force at some time in the past. We were addressed by Ross Perot, Jr., who headed the fundraising effort for the memorial, as well as numerous other generals, Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld and President Bush. The ceremony was capped off by flyovers of vintage aircraft from the '30s, '40s '50s and current models, including an F-15, an F-22 and a B-2 Stealth Bomber. The Air Force Thunderbirds even made a couple passes, culminated by their signature "bomb burst" demonstration.

After the ceremony, we began the supposedly one-fourth mile walk to the memorial, only to be stopped by police at the final highway overpass; we were to wait there — off the sidewalk in the grass and wait until all the dignitaries who were at the dedication had left the memorial site.

We even saw a four-star general come walking under the overpass; I could only wonder what happened to his staff car! A policewoman told us it would probably take an hour or more to clear the VIPs out before we could enter the area. Bummer! So, we walked around until we found a restaurant; we were starving by now (about 4 p.m.). After visiting the memorial, we walked back to the Pentagon, only to find the parking lot blocked off because of heavy equipment removing some of the displays there. We had to walk around the parking lot to reach the Pentagon Metro station. Little Sierra slept through most of the ceremony, and only fussed when she was hungry. Anita found a way to discretely nurse the baby almost anywhere, by putting a baby blanket over her.

All in all, we enjoyed nice weather, a nice visit and got to see lots of memorials, funny looking people, some of the museums before heading home on Sunday. Maine never looked better than when we returned from the big city!

Puzzle Mountain Bakery is taking orders for Thanksgiving. If you know how many people you will be feeding and would like a homemade pie, give the Bakery a call.

Thursday morning both a cardinal and a tufted titmouse appeared at the feeder. A sure sign of the changing season.

Last week I read The Citizen on Wednesday, just about a week late and saw the lovely picture of Crystal Lake, who was retiring, and Leslie Aaron, who will be her interim replacement. I sure have enjoyed chatting with Crystal over the years, from her start in the pretty, cramped quarters located at the rear of the Bear River Cabins to my visits on the Sunday River Road. I sure do wish her well and hope she and her husband can get to do the traveling they want to do. Perhaps we will now on occasion see her in Bethel during the day.

On Friday, the 13th, I drove up to Errol to meet Danny Tieger from New York City. He spends his summers at the family cottage on Rangeley Lake. He has been doing this for years. We usually meet for lunch in Errol, but this time drove up to the Balsams Golf Course to dine, where we had a fantastic view of the faraway mountains, probably into Canada. We actually saw a couple of snow patches along the elevated road and there were still traces of it across on the ski slopes. The waitress told us that the water dripping off the roof was from the snow melting. After a wonderful lunch and visit, we drove to the gift shop next to the main lodge at the Balsams. Danny recognized the woman who worked there as someone who worked in the Oquossoc area years ago. They had lots to talk about. Come to find out she is an aunt to Patty Lowell. Her name is Beverly Cameron and she now lives in Colebrook. She and her husband used to own and run the Bosebuck Camps in Magalloway.

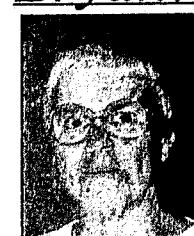

On Saturday, Danny Lowell went partridge hunting with his Uncle Dave. Danny got a partridge and was quite pleased with the outcome. His mom told me she cooked it and they had a tasty supper. While Danny was hunting his brother, James, was attending a Boy Scout weekend of camping out at Camp Hinds in Raymond.

On this Sunday, the 22nd, an open house reception is planned for Nancy and John Wight by their children. Nancy and John recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. The reception will be held at the Bear River Grange. The hours are from 1 to 4 p.m.

WVSC members will meet again this weekend for trail work. Leon Dunn has been over to the Andover line to work on the bridge connecting the two trail systems during this week. Danny Lowell is interested in working on the trials, so you don't have to be a seasoned rider to work. Anyone wishing to join the workers please call Leon at 824-3335 for the particulars.

News from Mrs. Neiberle: Mrs. Steve Chase came in today on her way to her daughter, Jenny's. She told me that Mr. Chase will be at home now recuperating from surgery. They reside on Fair Street in Norway but are known also in Bryant Pond.

Mr. Felt came in on his way to a band engagement at a nursing home. He is still busy with his band.

Recently I drove to Bethel and as I went down Merryfield Hill you could see the sun hitting the mountaintops. It was showing all the beautiful foliage. The colors of red, yellow and orange just gleamed. The sun also lit on North Pond showing the beauty of a fall day in Maine.

I would like to share this tip with you. Most people may have not tried this but you can cook an acorn, carnival (which is a sweet variety of acorn), on a buttercup squash whole in the microwave. You must remove the stem. A definite must. Then poke four or Dont forget the supper on Saturday at the C.E.B, 5 p.m., put on by the Snow Valley Sno-goers.

Have a nice weekend.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

The landmark home of the Cox family in Perkins Valley has been torn down to make room for a new home to be built. The home was built in the late 1800s. Many generations have been raised there. The homestead is now owned by David Cox, who is one of the Cox family descendants. We wish him the best.

What chilly weather we're having now; the days seem to stay quite nice once the sun comes out.

I made a trip to Lewiston for doctor appointments. I had planned so both would be the same day. I went but I was a day early so had to go again the next day. One of the appointments was at Dr. Ingraham's office, and they had moved since I had been there last year. A very nice gentleman guided me to the office and was very helpful and kind.

Tommy Poland and I went up to Gallant's Furniture in Roxbury. It was a nice day for traveling, but we both came home empty handed.

Kellie Wing and Vinny Lima spent a couple of days in Massachusetts. They went to visit Vinny's daughter.

I'm glad to hear that the Molykott Motel here in South Woodstock is doing quite well. There was a "No Vacancy" sign there recently.

I'm anxious to go to the Kohls department store in Auburn. I've been to others and really liked them.

I would like to have anyone in the area that would like any news printed in The Bethel Citizen to give me a call. The weeks go by so fast it's hard to get very much news.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that it is said that married women live longer than single women. It's not true — it just seems longer."

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Monument Dedication
The public is invited to the dedication of the new

West Paris veterans' monument on Saturday, Nov. 11, at 10 a.m. The funding is short, but, hopefully, the public will respond with donations sent to the West Paris town office with a notation "monument fund." Receipts will be sent if the donation is mailed to Sylvia McCann, 117 Main Street, West Paris, 04289.

A raffle offering a top prize of $100 will be drawn on Nov. 1. To purchase tickets or to offer to sell them, contact Sylvia, 674-2114.

An agenda for the dedication and unveiling is still in the planning stage, but there will be a parade forming at the Agnes Gray School on Main Street with majorettes, color guard, Boy and Girl Scouts, the bagpipes of Randy Mills, an Agnes Gray musical group, a grand marshal, and "Taps" by Eric Hanson. The ceremony at the town square will be led by the West Paris selectmen, Pastors Bruce Tyner and Lloyd Waterhouse, a military gun salute, brief statements by representatives of Senators Collins and Snowe's offices and a few words by retired Colonel Myron Pierce. Other ideas are in the offing.
We welcome the attendance of all. For more information, contact Sylvia, 674-2114.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer

Lynn Zimmerman returned recently from a trip to Switzerland where she did a lot of hiking in the Alps.

Rose Dyer has been in the hospital recently. She should be home by the time you read this.

Roy and Joyce Jansen from Pittston, Pa., visited with Rudi and Barbara Honkala on Oct. 12. Rudi and Roy were classmates and had a lot to talk about.

Shirley Lowell, Millie Jackson and Nancy Mercer attended the Bethel Senior Citizens Club on Oct. 11 at Pleasant Valley Grange. A wonderful harvest dinner was served.

Alder River Grange will have a Harvest Supper on Oct. 21 at the Grange Hall at 5 p.m. Adults will be $6 and under 13 will be $3. Our last supper will be on Nov. 11, being the Turkey Supper.

If you do have news, give me a ring at 824-3350; as I am not on the Internet.

Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

...I believe in the newest addition to the Imaging Department at Stephens Memorial Hospital, a state of the art 64 multi-slice CT Scanner. It delivers the highest quality images and fast service which translates to improved patient comfort, safety, and more accurate diagnoses.

William Portner, M.D.
Radiologist

With our new Siemens SOMATOM Sensation CT scanner, we are extending our commitment to giving you the very best healthcare. We offer a patient friendly environment designed for the best patient care and comfort.

The innovative design of our CT scanner provides a completely open environment, eliminating the closed-in feeling sometimes associated with a CT. System speed and reliability mean you spend little time in the scanner and less time waiting for results.

the colorful leaves that had adorned the trees now adorn our lawns. Very soon, the trees will be bare, and the snow will fall.

Did you notice that the gas prices were falling? It would be nice to see the prices below $2. I remember when it rose to $1, and thought "it can't go any higher than that." Boy, was I wrong!

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

From
Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

James J. Kiepper, author of "Styles Bridges: Yankee Senator," presented, on Oct. 12, the third lecture in the 2006 series honoring the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Bethel Historical Society. Sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities, the lecture on this Maine-born New Hampshire governor and powerful U.S. Senator, traced his journey from humble origins on an eastern Maine farm, where he developed a strong work ethic and led to his election as New Hampshire governor and then to the heights as a very influential member of the United States Senate where he yielded great power for nearly a quarter century.

Kiepper also noted that Bridges' memory is kept alive by the fact that his home in Concord is now the official residence for New Hampshire governors and a conference room in the U. S. capitol bears his name.

Following his presentation, Dr. Kiepper, an emeritus professor at the State University of New York at Buffalo, autographed copies of his book for those taking advantage of a special discount available only during that evening.

Antiques and Collectibles Course

The Bethel Historical Society's fall course on antiques and collectibles is still open for additional enrollees. It will begin on Oct. 25, 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House for an introductory presentation by course instructor Jay Boschetti, who owns and operates Steam Mill Antiques in Bethel on U.S. Route 2, just west of Bethel Hill Village. Three other sessions will follow each Wednesday, on Nov. 1 (furniture, textiles, carpets, etc.), Nov. 8 (porcelain, pottery, glass, paintings, jewelry and silver), Nov. 15 (paper, comic books, toys, photography, etc.). The course is open to all interested persons and participants are encouraged to bring relevant items for discussion during the class. For members, the fee is $15 and for nonmembers $20. To register, please call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910.

From SWOAM

The Western Maine chapter of the Small Woodland Owners Association of Maine will gather Saturday, Oct. 21, at the Duncan Howlett lot for a working meeting and tour.

Those attending will look at the most recent harvest on the SWOAM-owned lot while working to improve it. We will be releasing selected trees to sunlight by cutting out or girdling competing trees. We also will be pruning lower branches on selected white pine trees and brushing out boundary lines.

Possible tools to bring and use include hand-pruning shears, lopping shears, hand-pruning saws, pole saws, bow saws, brush axes and power brush saws. You're welcome to join us for the tour without participating.

The session, open to anyone, will start with the usual coffee and doughnuts at 8:30 a.m. The meeting will run from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Howlett lot is located in Lovell three miles from Route 5 on the Old Waterford Road across from the Lovell Country Club. Signs will be posted. Note: Wear a visible item of hunter orange clothing since Oct. 21 is Maine's Youth Hunting Day.

Direct any questions to chapter President Bill Haynes at 583-2963 or forest@maine.com.

From

Whitman Memorial Library

October has been a busy month for our Bryant Pond library. Many thanks to Ingrid Twitchell for her presentation on the process of making wool. Her yarn is out of this world. If you are a serious knitter I would definitely recommend that you get in touch with her.

Sayward Lamb will be our guest speaker on Thursday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. He will be talking about his book, "Deer Tails and Other Tales." The library has a copy in case you would like to read a few of his stories before the 9th. He will also have copies available for sale on the 9th.

You hunters and fishermen and women out there might want to question some of his stories, or match with some of your own. Please join us.

Oct. 26 will find two activities going on in addition to being open for a regular day. The Board of Trustees will be holding a quarterly meeting at 3 p.m. Our meetings are open to the public if anyone is interested in attending.

Also on the 26th, at 4:30 p.m. Nancy Willard will be giving a class on Tai Chi. She is trying to accommodate as many people as possible, thus the time change. All are welcome to come and try this gentle exercise class, which studies show do reduce stress.

New books for adults: "Judge and Jury" by James Patterson, "The Lady & Sons, Just Desserts" by Paula Dean, "Lights of Tonight" by Mary Jane Clark, "Born in Shame" by Nora Roberts, "For One More Day" by Mitch Albom, "Waiting for Summer's Return" by Kim Sawyer.

IN REMEMBRANCE AND APPRECIATION—On Columbus Day weekend, the Rev. Don Coverdale led an ecumenical service at North Peak Lodge. Many in attendance spoke in remembrance of the lives lost over Labor Day weekend. The theme of the service was appreciating the beauty of God's creation. Cynthia Libby of Rumford sang several solos.

For children we have: "Raising Readers," (a Collection of Stories from Maine), "Don't Let the Pigeon Stay Up Late" by Mo Willems, "Mouse Went Out to Get a Snack" by Lyn McFarland, "The Cow Who Clucked" by Denise Fleming, "Froggy Ride a Bike" by Jonathan London.

New DVDs: "Indian Summer," "A Hole in the Skys," "Mercury Rising," "Elmo," "Girl Interrupted," "Wake of the Red Witch" and "Trapped in Paradise."

From

Oxford County Democrats

The website of the Oxford County Democrats, www.oxforddems.org, is an excellent source of information on the slate of Democratic candidates. The website provides links directly to the pages of individual candidates. News releases and pictures are added regularly, and there are links to Democratic sites at the state and national level.

County Sheriff candidate Wayne Gallant was the guest of honor at a fundraising dinner at the Rumford Eagles Hall on Thursday, Oct. 12, attended by many friends and colleagues. Gallant offered remarks on his campaign highlighting the excellent response he is receiving to his 27 years of experience, his plan for the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, and the ethical and positive nature of his campaign. The Gallant campaign and that of County Treasurer Mary Ann Prue, are accepting campaign contributions. To contribute to Gallant for Sheriff, send checks to PO Box 66, Rumford 04276 and for Mary Ann Prue, send checks to 307 Swain Road, Rumford 04276.

The River Valley Democrats staffed a table at the Oktoberfest at the Armory in Rumford on Saturday. Pam Pace, Sue Waterhouse and Bill Petrie chaired the effort, and several candidates were in attendance.

Oxford Hills area candidates, plus county candidates, participated in the Aspire Higher Parade at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School on Saturday. Marge Medd, candidate for Senate, had an excellent turnout of family members and supporters, as did Roy Gedat for House in District 95, and Wayne Gallant, candidate for sheriff.

Sen. Bruce Bryant paid a visit to the Anniversary Celebration at the West Paris Library on Saturday.

To volunteer in the weeks before the Nov. 7 election, contact the Norway office at 739-2451 or the Rumford office, 364-3990, or contact County Chair Cathy Newell at 875-2116.

From

Bethel Lions Club

The Bethel Lions Club would like to thank The Bethel Foodliner and all their staff for being able to hold their annual White Cane Sight Awareness Day.

The Bethel Lions Club was visited by their District Governor Caroline Gile and her husband, Lion Bruce Gile. There were three other Lion members from the Massabesic Lions Club; a great time was had by all.

The Bethel Lions are having a 50/50 Christmas Raffle, with a limited amount of 200 tickets to be sold. You can purchase tickets from any Bethel Lion member for $5. Drawing date is set for Dec. 15.

Our next meeting will be Oct. 26, at the United Methodist Church, at 6 p.m. It is a coffee meeting. Please feel free to drop in and meet the Bethel Lions. For more information, call Gert at 824-2107.

If you have unneeded eye glasses, there is a collection box at Brooks Bros., on Main Street.

The Bethel Lions meet the second and fourth Thursday of the month at the United Methodist Church.

If anyone is in need of eye care assistance, please call 824-2107 for an application.

From

Waterford Library

The Waterford Library monthly book discussion group will meet on Oct. 25 to discuss "Cry the Beloved Country" by Alan Paton. All are welcome.

First published in 1948, "Cry the Beloved Country" is a beautifully told and profoundly compassionate story of the Zulu pastor Stephen Kumalo and his son Absalom, set in the troubled and changing South Africa of the 1940s.

The title that the group has chosen for November is "The Tortilla Curtain" by T.C. Boyle. This discussion will be held on Nov. 15. The "Tortilla Curtain" follows two couples in Southern California, one a pair of wealthy suburbanites, the other illegal immigrants from Mexico, provoking question after question concerning immigration, unemployment, discrimination, and social responsibility.

From

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met Oct. 11 at Pleasant Valley Grange Hall in West Bethel with 33 members present. President Nancy Mercer conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag.

The financial report was given by Jane Hosterman. Our secretary, Arlene Lowell, was absent due to recent surgery. Her report was read by Dorothy York. We are all happy that Arlene tells us she is doing well.

The next meeting will be Nov. 8 at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. The meeting will start at 11 a.m. The menu is chicken pie.

The 50/50 raffle was won by Verna Thayer. Jodie Carter won the door prize. A "crow bag holder," donated by Millie Jackson, was raffled and won by Jan Cross.

October birthdays are: Sylvia Dunham, Florence Merrill, Martha Sweatt, and Ruth Hazelton.

From

West Paris Public Library

The Friends of the West Paris Library will hold its annual Buck-a-Bag Sale on Saturday, Oct. 21. Buy a bag for a dollar and fill it with good books.

The sale is at the "Little Castle" library on Main Street from 9 a.m. to noon, rain or shine. For more information, call the library at 674-2004.

It's always wise to call ahead
Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

ADVANTAGEOUS INVESTMENTS
The brisk pace of second home sales is boosting the housing market. If you are searching for a good real estate investment, consider the potential benefits of buying a second home.
Statistics published by the National Association of Realtors indicate that four out of every ten homes sold in the United States in 2005 were second homes purchased for investment, vacation or retirement purposes. Second home sales are growing twice as fast as new homes and almost four times as fast as existing homes. Of second home investment buyers, 55 percent were interested in the rental income and 35 percent in the diversification of investment portfolios. Because they are in high demand, vacation homes have great resale potential. Exchanging one "like-kind" property for another under Section 1031 of the tax code allows investors to diversify or consolidate their holdings, reduce management commitments, or improve their cash flow.
Investors can build long-term wealth through the continued deferral of taxes on real estate exchanges and the increase in equity.
For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Obituaries

ARLENE FARWELL

Arlene Farwell, 84, of Norway, died peacefully, Tuesday, Oct. 10, 2006.

She was born March 11, 1922, one of 10 children of Frank and Eva (Briggs) Drake, and was raised on their farm in Canton. She married Willard Porter Farwell in Woodstock on May 26, 1940. He died in 1988.

Arlene was predeceased by two of her five children, David (in infancy) and Willard Porter Jr. She is survived by two sons: Richard of Greenfield, Mass., and Louville of South Paris; one daughter, Joyce and her husband Jerry of Waterville; and her daughter-in-law, Joy of Dixfield; four grandsons; and several great-grandchildren. She is also survived by four of her siblings: Rosella Walker, Conrad Dan, Terry Bennett and Nancy Winslow; and her sister-in-law Deborah Eldredge.

Arlene will be remembered by many for the mittens, hats and sweaters she happily knit for them and for always encouraging others to "smile."

We would like to sincerely thank the nurses and the staff members at Norway Rehab

Great Big Thank You

First of all, we want to thank our families and special friends for the welcome home for Jerry Johnson and my retirement party, Ginny Johnson on 9/9/06. The food and presents were more than appreciated. The very best part was having everyone together and enjoying each other's company. Many, many thanks to each and every one of you, present or absent.

Second - what can we say except another humongous thank you for the benefit supper for Jerry Johnson on 10/8/06. No one can find the proper words to express our gratitude for all the caring and work that you all have done. Very special thanks to Gertrude Hinkley and her entire family, Bertha, Harold, and Victoria Walker, and really, really close friends that all made this possible. To my daughter, Michele Wakefield and her family who is always there and goes above and beyond her responsibilities. She's a very special daughter, thank you. To all the family members that came and were part of this, also a very special thank you. God bless you all.

Love Ya,
Jerry & Ginny Johnson

and Living Center for the kind care given Arlene and for welcoming Jennie (Arlene's favorite dog) each week.

Graveside services were held at the Middle Intervale Cemetery, Bethel, on Wednesday, Oct. 18 with Dan Curtis officiating.

CHRISTOPHER GENDRON

Christopher Michael Gendron, 32, of Lisbon, died Wednesday, Oct. 11, 2006 at Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston after a brave battle with cancer.

He was born on Dec. 18, 1973, the son of Burt and Leigh (Kendall) Gendron. He graduated from Oak Hill High School in 1992. He worked for his father and various other jobs. He was a great handyman, especially for his grandparents. He married Amy Piepkorn on Aug. 28, 1999.

Chris' great loves were his family, especially his son, Dalton. His other loves were playing golf, playing pool and listening to music, especially the "Grateful Dead." He will be sadly missed by all who knew and loved him.

He is survived by his wife, Amy; and son, Dalton; his father, Burt Gendron; mother, Leigh Strout and her husband Kevin; sisters, Katie Strout Hyde and her husband, Chris and Brittany Gendron; brother, Derek Gendron; niece, Kyleigh Hyde; grandparents, Marvin and Joanne Kendall and Burt and Theresa Gendron; a special aunt, Sue (Kendall) Canuel, and her husband Roger; and a multitude of aunts, uncles, cousins and friends. He was predeceased by his grandparents, Robert and Patricia Strout.

At Chris' request, there will be no visitation or funeral. A gathering of remembrance was held on Saturday, Oct. 14, at "Mixers" in Sabattus. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Dalton Gendron's Trust Fund at Sabattus Regional Credit Union, P.O. Box 250, Sabattus, ME 04280. Condolences may be expressed at www.funeralalternatives.net.

WILLIAM R. CHANDLER

William Ramsay Chandler, 83, died peacefully Wednesday, Oct. 11, 2006 at his home in Woodbury, Conn.

"Willy" was a warm-hearted soul and we miss him. He will be remembered forever by family and friends as an inspiration of positive spirit, intelligence, open mindedness, fun, determination and kindness. High-tech before they invented the category, Will helped bring banking into the computer age, and was an intuitive master of all things electronic and mechanical both at work and at home. His inspiration extends well beyond his technical skills.

Will loved to sail and shared that love throughout his life with his family through voyages to and around Nantucket and the Caribbean, and with all the kids who learned to race with his help at the Middlebury Swimming Club.

He was a master story teller as well as a prankster and a pyrotechnic and infused our daily lives and major life events with a sense of celebration that we honor him by continuing to this day and beyond.

Will was born in Wilmington, Del., on Sept. 25, 1923, the son of Alfred and Caroline Chandler. He was educated at the Episcopal Academy in Pennsylvania and graduated from Harvard College in 1947 after serving as a pilot in the U.S. Navy.

After coming to Waterbury to work at Scovill, he joined the Waterbury National Bank and started the Automated Accounting Center of Connecticut as a division of the bank, for which he had to get the permission of the Treasury Department to use computers for banking business.

Later he founded Data Pack Inc. to provide automated accounting services and payroll processing for many Connecticut businesses.

He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Harriet Chandler; and their children, Michael and Erica; Tammis and her husband Gaston Biraben of Los Angeles, Calif., and their children, Amancal and Matias; Nicholas and his wife Toni of Topsfield, Mass., and their children, William, Michael and Daniela; and Peter of Santa Fe, N.M., and his son Dylan and fiancé Susan. He joins his sister, Mary Merrill. A memorial celebration is planned. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to either the Andover Educational Fund, P.O. Box 32, Andover, ME 04216; (207-392-4351; e-mail edfund@megalink.net) or the National Parkinson's Foundation (www.parkinson.org).

DAVID A. FLEET

David A. Fleet, 71, of Newry, died Oct. 12, 2006.

He was born in Newry on Feb. 15, 1935, the son of Roland M. and Julia (Brooks) Fleet and attended local schools. He married E. Jeannine Rolfe on April 10, 1960, she died in March 1984.

David had been a logger for 60 years and had been a Boy Scout Leader for several years. David was an outdoorsman, enjoying hunting and fishing.

He is survived by his companion, Laurie Beaudoin of Hanover; five children, Jeffrey Fleet and his wife Sheila of Hanover, Marshall Fleet and his wife Brenda of Mason Township, Alan Fleet and his companion Ann Friedlander of Newry, Tammy Fleet of Derry, N.H. and Penny Cadogan and her husband Neil of Ayer, Mass.; and six grandchildren Heather Fleet and Jason Foote of Derry, N.H., Casey Fleet and Michael Fleet of Hanover, Molly Cadogan and Katie Cadogan of Ayer, Mass.; and mother-in-law, Isabelle Rolfe. He was predeceased by his wife, E. Jeannine Fleet; mother, Julia Brooks Fleet; father, Roland Marshall Fleet; father-in-law, Marshall Rolfe; and granddaughter, Megan Cadogan.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf Funeral Home, Bethel, on Monday, Oct. 16, with the Rev. Norman Rust officiating. Burial was in the Sunday River Cemetery, Newry. Memorials are suggested to either the Sportsmen's Alliance of Maine, 205 Church Street, Augusta, ME 04330 or to the Arbor House Fund, 364 Main Street, Lewiston, ME 04240.

LORETTA BLAISDELL

Loretta Blaisdell of Coopers Mills died Oct. 14, 2006 after a long illness.

She was born in Rumford, on June 29, 1922, the daughter of the late Dominic and Mary Gironda. She graduated from Stephens High School in Rumford.

She is survived by four children, Harry Blaisdell of Somerville, Mass., Michael Blaisdell and his companion Diane Fowe of Bethel, Bonnie and Michael Cappucci of Manchester, Conn., and Bettina Desrochers of St. Johnsbury, Vt.; a brother, Al Geronda of Rumford; sisters, Florence and Ellen Gironda and Ann Hogan of East Hartford, Conn.; and many nieces, nephews, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by a grandson, Harold Michael Blaisdell; sisters, Mary Kelly, Rose Kidder and Bettina Geronda; and brothers, Victor, Frank and John.
